👤 PROFILE

I am Irbaz, studying BCA (Bachelor of Computer Applications) at Merit Haji Ismail Sahib Arts & Science College. I am interested in web development, which involves creating websites and web applications using technologies like HTML, CSS . Web development is a key part of modern technology and offers many career opportunities.

I am also learning programming languages like Python, C++, and C. Python is a high-level, easy-to-learn language that is widely used in web development, data science, and automation.

These skills are helping me build a strong foundation in computer science and preparing me for a career in IT and software development."
